

SHORT FEED TO CAUSE SELLING

Cattle Will Be Sold; Culls Should Be Put On Market

There will be heavy selling of grain cattle, cull cows, and other surplus stock during the last half of 1944, according to the best information at hand, says County Agent J. J. Joyce Jr. This condition is brought about by the extremely large holdings of livestock on farms and ranches and the shortage of feed stuff, especially grains and protein concentrates. In the light of these facts, Mr. Joyce advises farmers to begin culling and marketing their culls as early as possible and before the seasonal rush of late fall takes place. Louisiana can and should market most of the culled beef cattle before October 1, but should start just as soon as possible, in order to assist in the nationwide orderly movement of cattle to slaughter points, according to Mr. Joyce.

"Culling is an essential chore that should be performed regularly, but the necessity for early culling, and rather drastic culling, is multiplied many times by the present situation of excessive number for normal use, and the shortage of grains and other feed stuffs," he says. Farmers and stockmen should remember, however, that their cattle are tools with which to harvest forage in the most economical way, and should keep their livestock balanced with the available pasture acreage and forage supply.

"With the increased shortage of labor, and the idle acres brought on by inability to handle the usual crop acreage in row crops, dependence must be placed on livestock for more complete utilization of these otherwise idle acres.

Livestock can be described as an extensive form of use of land, with a small expenditure of labor, while row crops are an intensive form of land use requiring large expenditures of man hours," says Mr. Joyce.

Because of the development of scientific packaging, only about one-tenth as much army food is lost out of the average consignment now as at the beginning of the war.

CHILD WELFARE MEET IS HELD

Foster Parents Selection And Instruction Discussed

The regular monthly meeting of the Child Welfare Advisory Council of the Ouachita department of public welfare met at the Frances Hotel on Tuesday, June 13. The meeting was unusually well-attended with approximately 30 people present. Charles Mitchell, chairman, presided.

Committee reports were submitted which showed activity in the interests of legislative matters affecting child welfare, the development of community resources for the collection of clothing for emergency needs and in the recreational program for the summer on the city school grounds. The program committee reported plans for bringing in speakers and a variety of topics for discussion at later meetings.

The subject for discussion at this meeting was "Social Aspects of Adoption" and was led by Mrs. Lila Graves, department of public welfare. A distinction was made between the foster care program of the state department in which foster parents participate as co-workers with the state department in giving temporary care to children who must be removed from their own homes. In contrast, the adoption program is established as a service to the courts in making studies of infants and children available for adoption and of applications of adoptive parents. Adoption is described as the permanent attachment of the child to a new family, which assumes full responsibility as for an own child. An adopted child has all the legal and social rights and obligations of a natural child.

It was brought out that the mental capacities of the child are studied in order that he may be placed with adoptive parents of similar intellectual capacity. Children are usually adopted into homes of the same religious affiliation. An important safeguard to the child is that the identity of the adoptive parents should not be known to the child's natural relatives so that there can be no interference in later years in the child's complete identification with his adopted parents.

Some of the emotional factors which cause people to wish to adopt children were discussed. The discussion emphasized the importance of the actual placement of a child in a new home being made with the services of an authorized agency, since independent placements so frequently fail to protect the future of the child and the family in every important respect.

The work of the state department in licensing and supervising private institutions for child care and placement was explained and there was agreement that all of the services of the state for the protection of children should be coordinated.

BARBECUE WILL BE HELD TODAY

Members of the West Monroe First Baptist Church and congregation will hold the second annual barbecue dinner on the grounds Sunday noon. This event will mark the initiation of a two-week revival which will be conducted by Dr. C. W. Culp.

Rev. C. E. Autrey, pastor, assures that there will be 1,000 or more persons attending Sunday school and remaining for the dinner today. The general public is invited and everything is free.

In June, 1943, this church held a similar event which was attended by a large number of persons and the final liquidation of the church debt.

Rev. Autrey will preach a morning sermon suited to Father's day, and at the night hour the revival will be initiated.

SLATE MUSICAL AT COLORED USO

The colored USO presents the Section of the Glee Club of Selman Field and the Tabernacle Baptist Church gospel choir in a musical at the colored USO, 1928 DeSiard street, this afternoon at 5 o'clock.

All plans are already made for the musical and the public is invited to be on hand for the occasion. The Glee Club, under the direction of Prof. J. King Chandler, is one of the best in the community, with many excellent voices.

The gospel choir is also a top notch choir. There will be other talents in the city on this program and a large attendance is anticipated.

WANT BOYS AND GIRLS ON FARMS

Seek To Enlist 20,000 To Work During Summer And Fall

BATON ROUGE La., June 17.—(AP)—C. E. Kemmerly Jr., state farm labor supervisor of the Louisiana State University agricultural extension service, said today that plans are under way to enlist 20,000 or more boys and girls for emergency work during the summer and fall.

Kemmerly said that approximately 15,000 youngsters under 18 years of age volunteered for farm work in 1943 and that an even better showing is expected this year.

Terrebonne parish, with its early Irish potato and bean harvests, was one of the first to organize for large-scale employment of school youths. An emergency corps of more than 800 boys and girls is credited with having saved a large portion of both crops, Kemmerly said.

Earlier in the season, County Agent M. J. Andrepoint and other members of the farm labor advisory committee, which includes both farmers and agricultural workers made a quick survey to determine which growers were most in need of help and which would employ school boys and girls. They then visited the schools of the parish and explained the needs and the opportunities. As a result of this campaign about twice as many youngsters as usual asked for farm work.

The rest was merely a matter of bringing together the growers who needed help and the boys and girls who wanted work.

The growers supplied transportation. Wage rates in the potato fields varied from $1.25 to $2 or more a day depending on the size and skill of the individual. Similar wage rates prevailed in the bean fields.

Kemmerly said that one grower near the Bourg Community, estimated that his crew of about 30 youngsters saved his Irish potato crop at a cost of 10 cents to 12 cents a hundred pounds, the same cost as with adult labor before the war.

The principal effort, on a statewide basis, is aimed at enlistment of youngsters from small town and city schools, Kemmerly said. Farm boys and girls are already putting in a full day. Youths in large cities, he said, generally have little or no agricultural experience and the large city schools are unable to adjust their schedules for the benefit of a small minority of students who might accept farm work.

Kemmerly said that in certain sections, such as the Florida parishes, it has long been the practice to adjust the school term, opening or closing earlier or later as might be the case so that students could help out in the busy strawberry harvest season. Some such plans, Kemmerly said, have been adopted by an increasing number of parishes and towns in the past two years.

SOON TO ISSUE SCHOOLS' FUNDS

State Superintendent Announces Sums For Different Parishes

BATON ROUGE, La., June 17.—(AP)—State Superintendent of Education John E. Cox announced today he had informed parish superintendents that warrants are now being drawn by the treasurer's office for distribution by the state department of education to parish school boards of the $2,100,000 emergency appropriation made by the legislature for the purpose of raising school employees' salaries this current fiscal year.

Cox said the checks would go out to the parish school boards early next week, and that warrants are also now being drawn for the $200,000 appropriated to reimburse the boards for their correspondingly increased contributions to the teacher retirement system. He advised the boards to meet immediately for the purpose of making their budgets and preparing checks for their employees so that when the state checks are received the payroll checks may be released without delay.

Cox expressed the deep gratitude of the school forces of the state for "this generosity on the part of the legislature and the governor," and pledged that "our appreciation will be reflected in better service to the school children of the state."

He reported that a number of superintendents plan to pay employees an additional month's salary from their parish appropriation, and that other boards favor paying uniform amounts within each group of employees, as white teachers, transfer drivers, Negro teachers, etc. He recommended that the boards use their own discretion, only "taking care to make the adjustments tie in with your next year's program so that no employee will receive any reduction in salary next year."

Legislation toward appropriating $22.50 for each year of the next biennium is "progressing satisfactorily," he added, pointing out that such an additional $2.50 increase will insure stability in school funds and a continuance of the emergency benefits for school employees.

Total amounts to be received by parishes out of the emergency appropriation representing both the $2.50 per educable payment and the equalization payment based on $2.50 include the following:

Caddo $17,865; Catahoula $18,550; Concordia $11,160; East Carroll $12,978; Franklin $25,593; Jackson $24,365; Lincoln $28,909; Madison $11,427; Morehouse $24,962; Ouachita $41,088; Richland $32,765; Tensas $11,431; Union $29,966; West Carroll $24,805; City Monroe $12,821.

OWI PAYS HONOR TO BAND GROUP

Ferriday Aggregation Make Records And Are Entertained

The Ferriday School Band of Ferriday, after winning high honors in the state music contest at Alexandria, was offered an invitation by the OWI to make phonograph records for the boys overseas, to give them a touch of home.

With the support of the town of Ferriday, and the special buses offered by the ODT of Baton Rouge, arrangements were made to accept the invitation.

Principal Bateman and Director Forrest F. Griffen made final arrangements to make the trip on May 31 and June 1. The arrangements included a concert at the Louisiana School of Technology at Ruston and a concert at the Ruston prisoner of war camp.

The recordings, enough to fill six ten-inch discs were completed, after which the band was entertained by the music department of Louisiana Tech, following which dinner was served to the band. After dinner the band presented a concert in the auditorium of Tech, upon which occasion the band was asked, and gladly gave, three encores.

Following this concert the band was transported to the prison camp, where a concert was played for the personnel. After enjoying the hospitality of the recreation hall and the post canteen, the band was housed in the officers barracks for the boys, and the hospital for the girls.

The following morning, the officials of the camp entertained the entire group to a regular army breakfast, then conducted them through a tour of the prisoner compounds. As the work, handwork, and novelty work of the prisoners was in evidence at every hand, and the officials were ready with explanations, a very enjoyable and educational tour was enjoyed.

The entire troupe was entertained to dinner in Monroe on the drive home. About the most universal comment heard from the band members upon their arrival home was, "Boy, that's the best time I ever had."

The naval air transport service covers more than 5,000 miles on scheduled transport services.

The show is being presented for the state war finance committee of Louisiana in cooperation with the Fifth War Loan drive.

Meanwhile, the sale of bonds in each parish continued to lag, according to S. J. Rogers, chairman of the Ouachita Parish War Finance Committee. The total at noon Saturday was only $461,530.

"At the present rate of purchases," Mr. Rogers said, "we will reach only 10 per cent of our quota, but unless the Fifth War Loan sales are stimulated, we will fall disastrously in the present campaign. There are only three weeks to go, and we are far under the national percentage of purchases. The committee has every confidence in the patriotism of our citizens, but only through the com-

The Mediterranean air force took a heavy toll of enemy craft in widespread attacks, destroying 70 at a cost of 12 heavy bombers and nine other planes. In addition, fighters attacked enemy concentrations in Yugoslavia, destroying a large number of motor vehicles.

The Fifth army was expected to take quick advantage of its capture of Grosseto by using the air facilities there for attacks on Nazi prepared positions in the northern Apennines, whose foothills touch Florence, Pisa and Livorno. The latter, just below Pisa on the coast, is an important naval base.

The Fifth army alone thus far was credited with capture of 21,000 prisoners.

creates under definite limitations. Although it has tremendous potentialities these are unlikely to be developed in this war.

The Germans themselves say it cannot be used on the Normandy front for fear of hitting German troops.

Intermittent explosions from these rocket plane-bombs occurred during the night and through the morning hours. Several persons were killed and a number injured when one of the fire-spitting flying bombs hit a nurses' home at a hospital. Rescuers were digging for those possibly buried in the wreckage. Another trapped four people for six hours in a cellar which had flooded up to their necks before they were rescued.

R. A. F. planes during the night pounded the Pas-De-Calais area after yesterday's assault by American heavy bombers in an effort to destroy the launching grounds of these robot planes. But perhaps the only effective remedy would be an Allied ground drive to clear the Germans off that coast.

These facts have emerged:

The projectile can be mass-produced cheaply and fired in great quantities with simple apparatus. The weapon is the Nazi "Big Beitha" of this war. It is comparable to artillery or regular bomber attacks, but has not the accuracy of those orthodox weapons.

With perhaps a 100-mile range the rocket bomb can be thrown miles off its generally aimed course by wind, down drafts or other air currents. The Germans have no control over it after it is fired.

In flight it makes an odd noise and sparks shoot from its tail—a jet propulsion by an efficient motor so simple to surprise war scientists.

Built like an airplane it has small wings and is constructed largely of iron and is quite heavy. It has a head like a sewer pipe with a radiator which takes air into the combustion chamber as the craft thrusts forward. Here is a simple spark device ignites a mixture of fuel, expanding pressure closes the radiator and forces an explosion out of the tail.

Its speed is probably around 200 miles an hour and while it can be fired in the clouds or at night, it flies mostly on a straight line at varying heights from 200 feet up.

giving the rocket a new propulsion.

The explosions in flight are so rapid as to give a continuous whirring sound like a regular airplane motor. The fuselage is filled with explosives which are detonated when the plane runs out of fuel and strikes the earth.

field on the Cherbourg peninsula, and in direct aid to the Allied ground forces attacked motor convoys, tanks and machine gun nests. Other targets included a railroad bridge south of St. Lo and yards, railroad guns and tracks in the same vicinity.

Aerial activity generally increased during the afternoon as the weather turned better. German planes still were not much in evidence, however.

Allied headquarters reported that the aerial "battle of the bridges," which began well before D-day and has continued steadily, has produced highly successful results. This campaign to destroy the spans across which the Germans must move over the Seine, Oise and Loire, showed this score:

Seine: Of thirteen railroad bridges, nine completely down and two damaged; eleven out of 18 highway bridges knocked down and two other rendered unserviceable.

Loire: Six out of 11 railroad bridges destroyed and four unserviceable; nine out of 20 highway bridges smashed and five unserviceable.

Oise: One of four railroad bridges demolished and one unserviceable; road bridges useless.

3,283 AMERICANS

France to be in the middle sixties, with 16 divisions or elements thrown against the entire Normandy bridgehead areas.

Bradley said the enemy might be unable to move all his divisions in France against the beachhead, because defenses must be manned in other parts of the country and garrisons must maintain control of a turbulent civilian population.

American troops since landing, Bradley said, have captured or evacuated from the beaches 8,500 prisoners.

The general spoke in glowing terms of the courage of the American doughboy in establishing the beachhead. His first words as the correspondents gathered in his tent were in praise of the infantrymen, the parachute troops and their leaders.

broadcasts of instructions, news and warnings, however.

"Multiple and simultaneous cases of sabotage coordinated with the Allied effort, were credited by the communiques with considerably delaying the movement of German reserves to the Normandy battlefronts.

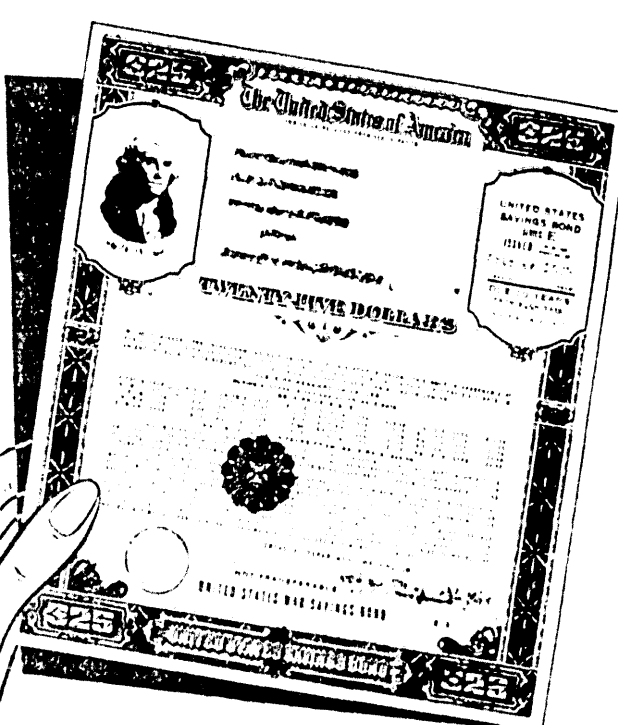

It said sabotage of German traffic had completely stopped road and rail movements in the Rhone Valley of southern France and that the French "Men of the Magasin" had "gained full control" of some interior areas in street-by-street fights for villages and towns.

Those veteran battlers were credited with capturing 300 Germans and making widespread raids on Nazi garrisons.

The shaky Vichy regime continued to oppose the rising resistance, but several reports said it was doing so without avail. The French radio at Algiers said part of the first regiment of the Vichy army had deserted to the guerrillas with all its arms and equipment.

DE GAULLE MAY ARRIVE IN JULY

Sends Word To Roosevelt He Hopes To Make Visit
By Then

WASHINGTON, June 17.—(AP)—Gen. Charles de Gaulle, acting as "chief of the provisional government" of France which the United States does not recognize, has advised President Roosevelt that he hopes to be able to come here either late this month or early in July.

His response through diplomatic channels left the way open for a decision not to come since it was based on the expressed provision that "circumstances" will permit the trip.

If he does come, it is generally agreed among White House advisers that he will be accorded the full honors and courtesies due a visiting dignitary. It is expected that he will be quartered at Blair House, the state department's official lodging for foreign government heads and other ranking notables.

Arrangements now contemplated appear designed to give De Gaulle about the same treatment he would receive as a visiting head of government but not to do anything that would imply official recognition.

This purpose reflects the general impression here that President Roosevelt presently holds no intention of modifying his decision against recognition. What he is said to hope for from a meeting with De Gaulle is some agreement on military cooperation in a man to man talk.

De Gaulle on the other hand is believed here to want to come to Washington for the purpose of seeking recognition. United States officials interpret all his official moves, including his decision not to work with Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower on final military arrangements for the invasion, as designed to that end.

Speculation in diplomatic quarters raises a question as to whether this evident conflict of intentions can be reconciled by compromise and agreement on both sides. If there is no hope for such progress, many authorities here say the visit may not be made.

Protestant Chaplains Hosts To Ministerial Association

Selman Field's Protestant chaplains this week played hosts to the Twin City Ministerial Association at the North chapel with representatives of the leading churches attending.

Chaplain Benjamin Y. Skove conducted service and Rev. A. M. Scree, of the First Methodist Church in Monroe, led in the closing prayers. Highlight of the service which included a tenor solo by Cpl. E. ### DEFICIENCY BILL PASSED BY HOUSE

WASHINGTON, June 17.—(AP)—Driving for a month-long recess starting next Saturday, the House passed and sent to the Senate today a $2,350,000,000 deficiency appropriation bill—last of the year's regular supply measures—after turning back a listless attempt to pare funds for the Office of Price Administration.

It disposed of the measure in the fast time of two and a half hours while Senate-House conferees were attempting to reach a compromise over separate legislation continuing the price control act and OPA. Passage came on a unanimous voice vote after three amendments, one of them of a technical nature, were beaten down in rapid-fire order.

Most of the new funds in the bill were earmarked for OPA, the appropriations committee's recommendation of $177,500,000 for that agency being sustained after Representative Vursell, Republican, Illinois, unsuccessfully sought to reduce it by $8,250,000. Vursell's amendment was defeated on a standing vote, 13 to 31.

Likewise rejected, by a voice vote, was an amendment by Representative Marcantonio, American Labor, New York, supported by Democratic Leader McCormack of Massachusetts, to strike out a ban against inauguration of any new grade labeling or commodity standardization program by OPA.

Marcantonio told the House the ban, written in at the last minute by the appropriations committee to prevent what some members said was an OPA move to abolish brand names, permitted "cheating, exploitation and robbery of American housewives."

DISMISSAL OF JACKSON POLICE IS THREATENED

JACKSON, Miss., June 17.—(AP)—Mayor Walter A. Scott, Jackson city commissioner, announced late today that they would dismiss immediately some 43 members of the Jackson police force, unless they withdrew from a recently organized local union by noon Monday. OGD members and voluntary police would be used during the crisis, the mayor said.

Chief of Police Joel L. Holden said that J. D. Lowery, J. R. McLeod and C. L. Branton, of the police department, had called upon him, along with representatives of seven local unions, and asked that the police be allowed to form the union.

Holden said that he had submitted a full report of the affair to Mayor Scott, and Commissioner A. F. Haskins and H. M. Taylor, setting out the request of the union.

"Jackson will be deprived of a significant part of its experienced police officers if these men persist in their demand," he said. "The city has not a moment to spare in this emergency, and it is not to be taken lightly."

The mayor and city commissioner said that if the police do not withdraw from the union by noon Monday, they will be dismissed immediately and the city will be left with a depleted force.

AMERICANS

the Germans at Bizerte in Tunisia, teamed up yesterday with the 82nd air-borne division in a powerful breakthrough of German lines which put the Americans on high ground only four miles from the west coast and virtually cut in two the Cherbourg peninsula.

Thousands of German troops were on the verge of being trapped inside Cherbourg port, 18 miles north of the corridor driven west of captured St. Sauveur, said a front dispatch from Don Whitehead, Associated Press correspondent. The west coast road was under American artillery bombardment.

Lt. Gen. Omar N. Bradley, ground commander who led the Americans to their triumph at Bizerte in May, 1943, was directing the swift breakthrough which had rolled to within a mile of St. Lo-D'Orville on the west coast road—last possible German escape route out of Cherbourg.

Some front dispatches said the Germans were fleeing southward to escape the American trap, but General Bradley earlier had predicted a last-ditch German stand in Cherbourg, whose harbor is vital to the Allies in order to hasten supplies and reinforcements. German broadcasts last night, however, began minimizing Cherbourg's importance, which could mean Nazi resignation to its eventual isolation and capture. Civilian refugees said the Germans already were forcing civilians to evacuate the city.

American troops were fighting fierce hand-to-hand battles in the streets of Montebourg, 14 miles south-east of Cherbourg.

American armmen were strafing the German lines of retreat out of the area.

Headquarters communiqué No. 24 issued just before midnight merely announced that "Allied forces have pushed deeper into Normandy" in gains which swept through St. Sauveur and reached the Vire-Et-Vaure canal south of Lisny. Villages east and west of Tilly-sur-Seuilles on the British end of the front also were captured, it said.

Front dispatches said the Cherbourg peninsula already had been virtually cut in two since the west coast road now was within range of American light artillery and fighter-bombers also were strafing the area. The coast west of St. Sauveur would lop off a 500-square-mile area at the top of the peninsula.

German broadcasts last night began minimizing Cherbourg's importance to the Germans.

The American commander, Lt. Gen. Omar N. Bradley, said there were no signs of a German evacuation of the port whose facilities would speed the flow of Allied reinforcements into Normandy, although an American armman who flew over the area reported seeing German trucks and staff cars heading southward from Cherbourg in a possible attempt to escape the closing American noose.

Bradley indicated the Germans might try to make another last-ditch stand at Cherbourg, fighting desperately in the hope that German reinforcements could break through to them. He also disclosed that American army casualties in opening the French front were 2,500 killed and 12,000 wounded in 100 days of fighting. This total of 14,500 was less than a third of what military leaders had expected.

While Bradley's report of force German tank and armor units in the Cherbourg sector at the eastern end of the 100-mile front, the United States and British divisions fanned out in three directions from St. Sauveur, where some on Friday cut the last German railway into Cherbourg. The town, 18 miles south of the front, was a main road leading into Cherbourg.

A column of two to three miles west of the town put American armor units on high ground commanding the western highway. Four miles away.

Enemy armor, the tanks of the 10th SS Panzer Division, another big and powerful unit, was seen in the area. To the south, they were within the range of the American anti-tank guns on the highway.

Another American column, advancing from the west, was within four miles of the town, the northwest. The town's railway station was under American attack.

A heavy German counter-attack in an effort to break the American advance was repulsed by the American armor units. The German armor units were seen in the area. To the south, they were within the range of the American anti-tank guns on the highway.

MONTGOMERY WARD'S STATEMENT

to the Special Investigating Committee of the HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

"THE FACTS WARDS HAS RECITED SHOW:

1. The Post Office aided the union during the strike at Wards and sought to excuse its actions to this Committee by misrepresenting the facts.
2. The National Labor Relations Board gerrymandered the bargaining units at Chicago to insure a union victory, and to force union representation upon the retail store employees who by remaining at work during the strike had clearly shown their rejection of the union.
3. The National Labor Relations Board has given a wholly false excuse for its action.
4. The War Labor Board, and the Attorney General, to distract attention from their own illegal acts, have untruthfully attacked Ward's labor policies.
5. The War Labor Board violated the law by granting a contract to the union when the union had refused to prove that it had any legal right to represent Ward's employees.
6. The War Labor Board, by ordering the retroactive reinstatement of maintenance of membership, would have made impossible the holding of a fair election among Ward's employees. Obedience to that order would have forced Wards, before the election was held, to discharge the many employees who had exercised their right to resign from the union.
7. The National Labor Relations Board and the War Labor Board conspired together to bring about the seizure of Ward's properties to enforce an order which they knew to be illegal and unfair.
8. The War Labor Board and the Attorney General have sought to prevent Wards from obtaining a hearing in the courts on the illegality of the Board's orders, while seeking to impose those orders upon Wards by force.

These facts show that the Post Office, the Department of Justice, the National Labor Relations Board, and the War Labor Board, with the approval of the President, have acted together to give illegal and unfair assistance to the CIO union at Chicago.

Ward's experience ever since the passage of the Wagner Act has shown that the unfairness and prejudice illustrated by these actions is the common method by which these agencies are using the prestige of the government to force the surrender of the liberties of employers and employees everywhere.

By their policies of giving unfair and illegal assistance to labor unions, these bureaus have destroyed the established procedure of collective bargaining and have encouraged labor strife. Mr. William M. Leiserson, Chairman of the National Mediation Board pointed this out in a recent address, saying:

"The unions . . . have come to depend on the Government to give them what they could not gain by collective bargaining with employers. And now, when the giving must stop because of the burdens of war and the necessity to control inflation, they turn in resentment against the Government like children against over-indulgent parents . . .

"Government agencies are perhaps more responsible for the present labor situation than the unions and their leaders. The dependence of workers' organizations on the Government is as much the result of their policies as of union policies."

By seeking to force Wards to obey an illegal order while depriving Wards of a hearing in the courts, these agencies have shown their lack of respect for our Constitution and the fundamental rights which the Constitution guarantees. The Constitution is no longer the supreme law of the land if those whose rights are threatened are deprived of an opportunity to obtain the protection of the courts.

From its experiences, Wards draws the conclusion that these many bureaus have formed a machine for purchasing political support from labor organizations.

Wards has long believed that, when the public awakens to the degree of coercion used by the administrative agencies of the government to force employers and employees to accept union restrictions in which they do not believe and which without such coercion they would avoid, it will rise in indignation. The public will demand that those appointed to office in these agencies act with simple fairness and obey the law or be removed from power.

The facts Wards has recited show, finally, that the President, to force Wards to obey an order known to his advisers to be unfair and illegal, ordered Ward's property seized by force.

The President's action in ordering the plant seized was the usurpation of a power not granted him by Congress and denied him by Constitution he was sworn to uphold and defend.

The seizure of Ward's plant developed a spontaneous and continuing public indignation which resulted in this investigation. This indignation is easily interpreted. A free American people will not accept dictatorship.

MONTGOMERY WARD & CO.
SEWELL AVERY
Chairman

This is the concluding summary of the statement made by Wards on June 6, 1944 to the Special Committee of the House of Representatives investigating the seizure of Ward's properties. The full statement will be gladly forwarded to any reader upon request.

LAUDS EFFORTS OF RED CROSS

Overseas Sergeant From Monroe Tells Of Aid Given

George B. Lambert, staff sergeant with headquarters battery, 32nd A. A. A. brigade, writes back to his friends in Monroe and gives praise to the work of the Red Cross for men in armed service. He states in his letter: "The other day I met some of the boys from Monroe, who are getting copies of both the local papers. It was just like being home once more and talking to old friends and them to tell you of what has happened since you were there last. I didn't know so many of the boys I once knew and played with were in the armed services. More power to our small city."

"The copies of the paper I managed to get a hold of were editions covering the time of the Red Cross drive. If the people back home knew the good the Red Cross was doing in our part of the world they would not begrudge the few dollars and dimes that was asked of them.

"I will tell you of the good the Red Cross did for me while I was in the hospital last February at A. P. O. 928-I. I was in there with a severely burned hand. The Red Cross worker attached to the hospital would come around each day to see if the men in our ward needed cigarettes, anything to read or if we wanted them to write a letter home for us. Now the cigarettes they gave us cost money and the Red Cross has to depend on donations from the folks back home to be able to get them for us. Also coming back from my furlough in Australia the Red Cross service on the boat furnished us with reading material, different games to play with to relieve the monotony of the long trip back.

"We have a Red Cross canteen service at the airstrip that is going day and night. Men coming and going on the planes are always hungry or want a cup of coffee, the first thing they say when they get out of the plane is 'Where is the Red Cross hut?' The young ladies who operate it are always smiling and ready to wait on everybody. You don't know what it is to see a young lady smile unless you have missed it as much as we have since leaving our homes and loved ones.

"The Red Cross, as we say in the army, is 'Tops in my book.' They are always on the spot to do all they can for the men in service. While in Sydney I sent my clothes to one of the local laundries and before they were delivered the employees in all the laundries went on strike, as my time in Sydney was limited I had to do all I could to get my clothes before I came north. I went to the office and asked for them and, not in too nice a way was told I couldn't get them. I went to the Red Cross office on Pitt street and told them of my plight, the Red Cross worker told me to come back the next day and she would have my clothes ready, sure enough she had them delivered to the office. What she told them or how she managed to get them out is just one of the things the Red Cross is able to do for the men in service. If anyone back there doesn't want to do his or her part for the Red Cross just send them over here and let them find out for themselves what good they are doing."

LIEUT. TRIMBLE IS GIVEN HONOR

Local Pilot Gets Air Medal, Two Clusters, For Services Rendered

AN EIGHTH AIR FORCE BOMBER STATION—First Lt. William W. Trimble, son of Mrs. Eula M. Trimble, 709 South Grand, Monroe, is serving as pilot of a Flying Fortress crew of the Eighth Air Force now carrying out operational missions over Germany and enemy-occupied Europe.

The Air Medal and two Oak Leaf Clusters to the Air Medal were awarded to Lt. Trimble of exceptional meritorious achievement while participating in 15 separate combat missions over Continental Europe. He is also the holder of the Distinguished Flying Cross for his outstanding work while on a bombing mission over Germany January 24, 1944.

The citation accompanying the Distinguished Flying Cross award reads as follows: "For extraordinary achievement, while serving as pilot of a B-17 Flying Fortress on a bombing mission over Germany, January 24, 1944. One of the bomb-bay doors failed to open over the target causing a large number of incendiaries to jam against the closed door. Realizing the danger of the armed bomb being detonated, Lieutenant Trimble immediately set about releasing them. Working over the open bomb-bay without a parachute and with only an emergency supply of oxygen, Lieutenant Trimble, assisted by two other members of the crew, stopped the arming vanes from spinning and threw the bombs out one at a time. The courage, skill and disregard for his own safety displayed by Lieutenant Trimble saved his aircraft from probable destruction."

Lieutenant Trimble had completed his advanced pilot training at George Field, Ill., and was commissioned a second lieutenant April 23, 1943. Shortly after his arrival in the European theater of operations, the lieutenant was promoted to the grade of first lieutenant. He is also a flight commander of his squadron.

Prior to his entrance in the air corps, the lieutenant had attended Louisiana Polytechnic Institute. His wife, Mrs. Cathryn Trimble, resides at 1508 Riverside, Monroe.

SGT. DELOACH IS BADLY INJURED

Mrs. William L. DeLoach, 131 Quachita Avenue, has just received word that her husband, Sergeant DeLoach, has been wounded for the second time in the Italian invasion campaign. His first wound caused him to be hospitalized shortly before troops entered Rome.

A short time later, according to word just received, he was wounded again and is back in a federal hospital somewhere in Italy. This time his injuries are in the back and intestines and his condition is still serious, the announcement stated.

CANNING AIDS TO PUBLIC OFFERED

Canning aids are offered to the public again this year by United Gas Corporation, according to C. A. Proffit, district manager of the company. Due to the big demand for labels and canning booklets last year, the company decided to make them available for this canning season, it was said.

During last year, United Gas Corporation supplied over a million of the canning labels and thousands of the canning booklet to home canners in the territory served. The use of the labels has simplified the labeling of canned goods. A place for the name of the vegetable, fruit or other product canned is provided as well as a space for the date. All the home canners has to do is to fill in the blanks, dampen the glued side of the label and apply to the surface of the jar or can, which should be free from all dirt or grease.

THIS is the day father will don his new tie and enjoy for a few hours the sensation of being the most important person in the house. Father is human enough to want to be considered a personable gent; he may not exhibit his vanity as women naturally do but you may be sure he will strut forth today as proud as a peacock and happy in the knowledge that this one day in the whole year has been set aside to do him honor. Father's day is 34 years old. It wandered around the calendar for many years, but in 1923 was stabilized on the third Sunday of June. Various flowers have been used as appropriate blooms. For a while the dandelion was a favorite because, like father, it bobs up again no matter how hard it is stepped on. This page is dedicated today to all the fathers of the Twin Cities. It isn't possible to have pictures of them all so three representative fathers were selected to grace the page today.

Judge William Harper, upper right, is seen in the gardens of the Harper home on Island drive with his three beautiful daughters: Billy, Vivian, and Joy. Vivian is a student at Sophie Newcomb College, New Orleans, and returned last week to resume her studies during the summer months. Joy was graduated from the Neville High School June 1 and will enter Sophie Newcomb College in September. She was awarded the Spanish American War Veterans' award for the best essay in the entire state.

Officers Installed By Business Women's Club

At the "Altar of Friendship and Peace" newly elected officers of the Business and Professional Women's club were installed at an impressive ceremony Tuesday night.

Members of the club met at a dinner party at the Frances Hotel where tables were beautifully decorated with garden flowers of red, white and blue. An additional bit of patriotism was reflected in the display of flags of all the Allied Nations arranged in the background where the emblem of the Business and Professional Women's Club was displayed.

A delicious three-course dinner was served and later the assemblage sang "America the Beautiful" in unison. Miss Maible Hood gave the address of welcome and presented the retiring president, Miss Harriet Hirsch, with a beautiful gift on behalf of the club members. Miss Hood prefaced her remarks by saying: "It has been said, and probably rightly so, that the majority of people look without seeing, listen without hearing and die without having lived, because their power of concentration has been neglected. As we have but one life to live it would be a pity to have ourselves in this category, so let's each of us keep our eyes open, our minds and thoughts alert to the happenings of the day and make this the most successful year in the history of our club."

Mrs. Laura Slater acted as installation officer, and said in part: "When the war clouds are over land and seas, the world around, the torch of friendship must be raised anew that women of all nations may meet together at a common altar to render united service for democracy; for the four freedoms; for the protection of life itself. There comes the call for service on all battle fronts; every woman at her battle station; for the winning the war; for the winning of the peace. In times like these, the golden circle of Federation friendship must be welded a little more closely, a little more firmly, a little more strongly. The bond of mutual pleasure begins in the local club; then it expands to include the district, the state, the national and finally the international federation."

"The symbols of Federation emblem lend themselves well to the interpretation of 'hands across the Seven Seas.'—United Nations the flaming torch of wisdom, tireless leadership, Caduceus, the Winged Victory, symbolizes harmony, patience and forbearance. The ship of commerce symbolizes commerce, progress—the open way for new bonds of friendship. The open scroll—the achievements—the undying record of love and good will to all women everywhere. The Winged Wand of the Herald is the messenger of good will itself, and Nike faces squarely ahead toward Victory—a symbol indeed of Victory Triumphant."

A great plan of action challenges the Federation objective. "We seek to vitalize the processes of democracy that all peoples may enjoy the basic satisfactions of life in a world at peace."

Mrs. Gladys Miles, president, responded with a few well-chosen words and asked the congregation of Friends in this city will read with interest the announcement of the engagement of Dr. O. W. Cosby of Baton Rouge. The announcement appeared in the Baton Rouge State Times as follows:

Announcement is made today of the engagement of Mrs. Evelyn Ford Fenderson, the attractive daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Ford to Dr. O. W. Cosby, who has been practicing here for the past 12 years.

The wedding will be celebrated here next Thursday night at 1 o'clock at the First Presbyterian Church and will attract wide interest because of the prominence of the couple.

The bridegroom is a state employee, being in the office of the collector of revenue. She was born and reared here and attended the university.

Dr. Cosby, the son of Mrs. O. W. Cosby of Baton Rouge, and the late Dr. Cosby of Monroe, has been practicing medicine here for the past 12 years. He was graduated from the Tulane school of medicine in 1931, where he was a member of Theta Xi fraternity and of Alpha Kappa Kappa medical fraternity.

Twenty-five poems were present at this official reading during Poetry week. Mrs. Russell's poem was first published by the University of Nebraska press a year ago and has since been reprinted many times. The author is a serious student of the sonnet form. Cecil B. Williams, department of English, De Paul University, has said of this poem, "It is unforgettable." This wartime poem which she wrote for her sons in service, follows:

I cannot tell what flowers you may find
When springtime comes; perhaps the daffodil
Will still be on the ground your feet shall tread.
The signature of April will unspool
You may be in some distant land
And
To violets and early zephyr
But this is certain anywhere you go
The stars will lay their blossoms on your mind.

And even though the violets do not fade
To seek your path there will be patterned beauty
To keep your dreaming fresh, your being whole—
Some clustered shells, anemones washed where Your weary feet have left the print of duty.
And stars and song of flowers for your soul.

Of interest to a wide circle of friends will be the announcement of the marriage of Mr. Roy A. Boyd, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Boyd, of Monroe, La., and Miss Elvira Houchins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dan Houchins, of Thibodaux, La. The wedding will take place at the home of Rev. I. L. Young.

Mr. and Mrs. Boyd will be at home to their friends at 422 Lee Avenue, Monroe, La.

RENEAUX FINISHES 30-DAY FURLOUGH

Sergeant Reneaux, who was in the marines prior to Pearl Harbor, had been overseas in the South Pacific area for 30 months and took part in many of the most fierce battles, including Midway and Guadalcanal.

While on leave, Sergeant Reneaux was married to Miss Francis White, formerly of Monroe, and now living in New Orleans.

MESSERSCHMITT BROUGHT DOWN

Sgt. Charles Edwards Gets Credit For Its Destruction

FIFTEENTH ARMY AIR FORCE—Sgt. Charles D. Edwards, of Transylvania, La., son of Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Edwards, is one of the gunners of an AAF Flying Fortress that was credited with the destruction of an enemy aircraft. The sergeant, ball turret operator, was given credit for the destruction of one Messerschmitt 109.

"Two enemy fighters attacked from a head-on position in front of the nose," he stated. "They came in high and going around toward the tail of the ship."

"I opened fire on the right hand plane of the pair at about 150 yards. By the time he had reached the tail position I had poured four or five long bursts into him."

The enemy aircraft was last observed to be in flames by the right waist gunner of Sgt. Edwards' ship, who saw the tail blow off and the plane burst into flame at a position below their ship.

The sergeant is a member of the oldest heavy bombardment group in the Mediterranean theater of operations to its credit, having bombed almost every Axis-dominated European country from bases in England, North Africa, and Italy.

More than 142,000 girls earned homemaking badges in Girl Scout's last year.

SANITATION FOR MILK IS GIVEN

Health Unit Director Explains Efforts To Safeguard Public

By Dr. C. L. Mengis

We have just recently completed the first step in the eradication of Bang's disease in dairy herds retailing raw milk in Ouachita parish by the Federal Bureau of Animal Industry, whose headquarters are in Fort Collins, Colo. In this first test, there were found 67 reactors, cows whose blood test showed positive for Bang's, and 102 that are suspected of having the disease—altogether there were 1,377 cows tested. The United States public health milk code, under which the milk control section of the state board of health operates, and to which the milk ordinance passed by the Monroe municipal council conforms, recognizes the absolute dependability of pasteurization of milk in preventing the infection of brucellosis or undulant fever being transmitted to man, and no testing is made of cows supplying milk to plants for pasteurization before being consumed. All of these 67 reactors have been killed and disposed of under the supervision of the veterinarian making the tests.

The next step is the retesting of the 102 suspected cows with addition of all others in suspected herds, disposing of these animals that prove positive, with continued periodical testing throughout the year, the vaccination of all heifer calves from 6 to 8 months, and the prohibition of adding any new cows to the herd, until they have been isolated and tested 60 days after, and found to be free from Bang's disease. Where the premises have become badly infected, an animal test gives a very limited public protection as quite a percentage of reactors will be found on 30 or 60 day testing, and to keep such animals in a milking herd for a whole year may cause the milk to become infected in the interval, and no benefit is accomplished in controlling Bang's disease in the herd.

So, it is agreed between the owners of raw milk dairies, the United States Bureau of Animal Industry, and the Ouachita parish health unit, that periodic testing not to exceed 60 day intervals will be carried out—that all heifer calves will be vaccinated, and no additions be made to the herd unless approved by the bureau, and in this way, it is hoped that the danger of a specific infection of undulant fever be reduced to a minimum. I might say here that the vaccination of full grown cows against Bang's has not been successful and has been discarded by those persons who are well informed upon the transmission of the disease. It has been the opinion of experienced veterinarians that the infection of the soil or of the premises, is the greatest barrier to a complete eradication, some herds having the cow killers, others being cleaned at last by moving back, stock, and herds, to a new location.

I would like to summarize the following:

1. Milk is an excellent food because (a) it is a natural food, (b) it is a cheap source of energy, (c) it is a good muscle builder, (d) it is a good tooth and bone builder, (e) it is a highly concentrated food, (f) it is an excellent source of vitamins A and G, and (g) it is easily digestible.

Normal children should consume a quart of milk a day, normal adults a pint, together with a well balanced supplementary diet, which in children should include such foods as orange juice, cod liver oil, and green vegetables.

2. Milk may be safeguarded so as to prevent it from transmitting such diseases as tuberculosis, typhoid fever, scarlet fever, diphtheria, septic sore throat, and undulant fever by careful production and proper pasteurization—neither production precautions alone nor pasteurization alone are adequate but both are necessary to assume the maximum protection from cow to consumer.

3. Consumers may assure themselves that the milk they drink has been thus properly safeguarded by purchasing only Grade A pasteurized milk as defined by the milk code, or by pasteurizing at home Grade A raw milk as also defined by the milk code.

The U. S. P. H. service in supplement 150 gives the following instructions for home pasteurization: "Heat the milk over a hot flame to 155° F., stirring constantly, then immediately place the vessel in cold water and continue stirring until cool. If there is no thermometer available, the milk should be brought to a boil."

However, I like the New York state method much better:

1. Place cold or warm water in the bottom or outer section of a double boiler or other deep container.
2. Pour the raw milk in the inner section of the double boiler; put the inner section in the outer container and place over a burner.
3. Place a clean thermometer in the milk and stir gently and continuously with a clean spoon. Watch the thermometer and heat the milk quickly to at least 160° F.
4. As soon as the thermometer reads 160° F. remove the milk container and dump the hot water from the outer container.
5. Fill the outer section with cold water or ice and replace the inner section in order to cool the milk rapidly to 50° F. or lower.
6. Place the cooled milk in the refrigerator. If you transfer this pasteurized milk to the raw milk bottle or another container, be sure to send such container with boiling water.

The children's bureau recommends that all milk consumed by children under 2 years of age be boiled, as boiling makes it more easily digested and kills all disease germs present.

I knew Mr. Leslie C. Frank, who was sanitary engineer in charge of office of milk investigation, U. S. P. H. service, now deceased, who visited Louisiana on several occasions and pioneered in the field of a safe and sane milk supply, and I would like to quote this paragraph from one of his speeches:

"If an epidemic of milk borne disease occurs in connection with a pasteurized milk supply which the health department has carefully supervised, the health officer is able to defend himself effectively against criticism by the statement that he has omitted no precaution known to the science of public health to make that milk safe. If, however, as is almost always the case, the outbreak occurs upon a raw milk supply, and the health officer has not repeatedly been on record, as urging that all milk be pasteurized before it is consumed, he is subject to the criticism that he has not exhausted every means of protection, for, regardless of the care surrounding the production of raw milk, one can never escape the fact that it would have been still safer if the additional precaution of pasteurization had been applied."

TARZAN'S FLIGHT

TARZAN DASHED FROM THE TUNNEL'S MOUTH, ZIG-ZAGGING TO MAKE AN UNCERTAIN TARGET. HE CROSSED THE CLEARING AND REACHED A VANTAGE POINT BENEATH A CLUMP OF TREES. TARZAN WAS PUZZLED.

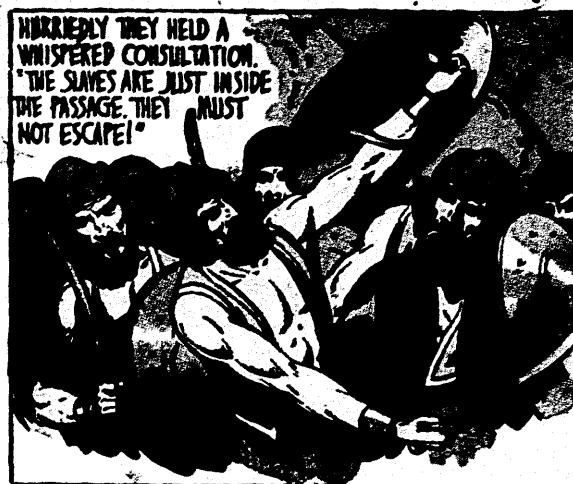

THE EXPECTED AMBUSH DID NOT MATERIALIZE. GLANCING OUT, HE DETECTED A FILE OF GUARDS APPROACHING FROM ABOVE. AS THE FOREMOST CAME WITHIN RANGE----

--TARZAN DREW A KNIFE AND HURLED IT. THE MAN FELL, PIERCED THROUGH THE HEART.

THE GUARDS HAD NO IDEAS OF THE TRICK. THEY WERE ALL DEAD.

HURRIEDLY THEY HELD A WHISPERED CONSULTATION. "THE SLAVES ARE JUST INSIDE THE PASSAGE. THEY MUST NOT ESCAPE!"

NOW ANOTHER VENTURED FORTH CAUTIOUSLY. THE CLEARING BEFORE THE TUNNEL WAS DESERTED.

"ADVANCE!" HE CALLED. THERE IS NO ONE--" HIS WORDS WERE CHECKED AS ANOTHER BLADE THUDDED HOME WITH DEADLY ACCURACY.

THE GUARDS WITHDREW IN DISORDER. TAKING ADVANTAGE OF THE CONFUSION, TARZAN MOTIONED HIS MEN TO ESCAPE.

THE FREE-MEN FLED TOWARD THE GARDEN OF DEATH, WHILE TARZAN REMAINED BEHIND.

TARZAN HEARD A COMMOTION IN THE TUNNEL. DON ARCADE WAS COMING UP FROM THE REAR!

CAUGHT BETWEEN TWO COLUMNS OF HIS FOES, THE JUNGLE LORD RESOLUTELY FACED THE COMING ORDER--ALONE!
